

The Daily Courant.

Monday, July 12. 1703.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dard July 16.

WE have no Letters directly from Italy, but from the Frontiers of Switzerland 'tis advis'd, that they had News from the Duke de Vendome's Army, that the French have resolv'd to besiege Mirandola: that they intend likewise to form a Camp near Goito, in order to streighten General Vaubonne; who has pass'd the Oglio with 1200 Horse, raises Contribution in the Cremonese, and 'tis said will endeavour to relieve the Garrison of Bersello. The Pope's Troops, to the Number of 600 Men, have entred into Finale de Modena; to guard that Place; it belonging to the Church.

Private Letters from Vienna say, that the Baron de Zeiler, formerly one of the Emperor's Commissioners, is fallen into Disgrace, and taken into Custody; but do not mention for what reason.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated July 17.

Frankfort, July 11. Letters from the Upper-Rhine that came in yesterday confirm, that the French Army commanded by the Duke of Burgundy is march'd from Langensheydel towards Haguenau and Fort Louis, and that the said Duke is arriv'd at Strasburg; from whence, the report continues that, he will return to Paris: In their Retreat they plunder'd all the Villages. Deferrers come daily to Landau and Germersheim, who report that the French Army designs to pass the Rhine at Fort Louis; But all the Posts thereabouts are so well provided for Defence, that 'tis believ'd the Enemy will hardly venture on such an Enterprize. The Margrave of Bareith is mov'd towards Nordlingen and Dischingen, in order to be nearer to the Prince of Baden; and some say, he has already joyn'd him, and that they advanc'd towards the Marshal de Villars, who lay entrench'd between Lauingen and Dillingen, and who thereupon pass'd the Danube, is march'd towards Ausburg, and is follow'd by the Imperialists. The Detachment of the Troops of Westphalia and Munster, led by the Generals Hockkirken and Nagel are arriv'd between Wisbaden and Hochst, and will march to Day or to morrow to the Lines near Landau. 5 Prussian Regiments commanded by the Prince of Anhalt Dessau, are come within 8 or 10 Leagues of this City. P. S. A Report is just now spread that the City of Ausburg has deliver'd up one of her Gates to the Bavarians; but it requires Confirmation. General Aulfats has possess'd himself of Ambach.

Some Advices from Germany say, that Ernberg a Pass in Tyrol, is surrendred to the Bavarians.

They write from Vienna, that the Elector of Bavaria having, by making himself Master of the Country of Tyrol, cut off the Communication through it to the Imperial Army in Italy, a Post is fix'd between Vienna and Trieste.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated July 17.

Liege, July 13. Count Zinzendorf went yesterday from hence to Maestricht, from thence to go to the Army commanded by the Duke of Marlborough, in which he designs to continue during the Campaign;

he has given very rich Liveries to his Domesticks, and has taken 3 Tents with him. The Famous French Collonel la Croix having Intelligence given of him of the said Counts departure from hence, came over the Maes to Vizet with 200 Men to intercept him; but, finding him strongly guarded, durst not venture upon him. We have certain Information that the French lost above 3000 Men in the Battle of Eckeren; and that Baron Notaf, Collonel of a Regiment of the Elector of Cologne's Troops, is dead of the Wound he receiv'd in it.

From the Harlem Courant, dated July 17.

Breda, July 14. A great Convoy, which arriv'd here on the 12th from the Army encamp'd at Vorfelaer, and brought with them 2 French Captains and 16 Horse; went from hence to day with Provisions for that Army, and 600000 Guilders in Money to pay the English Troops. Lieutenant General Churchill, who arriv'd here to day with several Officers, intends to set out to morrow for the Camp. The French Army lyes within a League and an half of ours, having a Morais before them, and their Lines behind them.

From the Army of the Allies commanded by the Duke of Marlborough, encamp'd at Vorfelaer, July 16. Yesterday in the Evening we heard great Shooting towards Flanders; which we suppose to be General Coehorn's attacking Fort Bedmar; the taking of which Place would open a Communication between the Body he commands and Hulst. Yesterday likewise Count Zinzendorf arriv'd here from Maestricht; The Convoy of Horse that was sent out to conduct him hither met a Party of French Foot, 3 of which they kill'd and took 12 Prisoners. On the 13th our Left Wing forrag'd; the Convoy that guarded them, commanded by the Earl of Albemarle, took 40 of the Enemies Prisoners.

From the Harlem Courant, dated July 17.

Fort Philippine, July 9. At Ghent, Bruges, Courtray, Mechlin, and Louvain, Te Deum has been Sung by the Enemy for the Victory they pretend to have won at Eckeren: The Spanish Regiment of Foot of Benavides, the Collonel of which was kill'd, suffer'd very much in that Action. The Marquess of Westerloo was wounded, and the Duke de Bournonville was shot through the Body, and, 'tis reported, is since dead. On the 6th the Count de la Motte march'd out of Ghent, with a Body of Troops towards Bruges, and on the 8th was follow'd by Collonel Jacques Pasteur with his Regiment of Dragoons, 150 of which he lost in the Fight at Eckeren; The same day 12 Pieces of Cannon and 6 Waggon's loaded with Ammunition were sent from Ghent to be dispos'd on the Canal of Bruges.

Hague, July 14. An Express sent hither by General Coehorn, brought advice yesterday Morning, that the Fort of Kieldrecht was taken by a Detachment of the Troops commanded by Monsieur Schraffenbach; This Fort is situate between Liefkenshoek and Hulst; the Garrison consisting of 54 Soldiers, 4 Officers, and 2 Sergeants, surrendred on Discretion; we had only 1 Man kill'd and 2 wounded before it.

Hague,

Hague, July 16. Letters from Bergen op Zoom of Yesterday tell us, that General Coehorn has taken the Forts Bedmar and St. John, but no Express concerning it being come to the States, we suspend our belief of it. From the Camp at Lillo they write, That the French have sent a Detachment over the Bridge of Antwerp, to endeavour to relieve Fort Bedmar; that our Forces are making a Bridge not far from Liefkenshoek; and that General Spaar lyes encamp'd near Fort Kieldrecht.
